Dependents Of Deceased Vets Receive Benefits

Dependents of deceased veterans who have died within three years after discharge can now receive monthly benefits, advised Arthur H. Tryon, director of the Los Angeles Veterans Service Center.

Under a new public law signed August 10, 1946, all veterans are credited with $100 average monthly salary toward survivors' benefits under the Social Security Act. This amounts to a $31 monthly benefit.

Widows are entitled to three-fourths and children to an additional 50 percent of the basic monthly amount, approximately $16.12 per child. A maximum of twice the original benefit is placed as a ceiling on the allowances. Additional one percent is added to the amount for each year that servicemen have 30 days of active service.

Dependent parents over 65 are entitled to monthly payments equal to one-half of the basic amount. Any dependent under 65, including a widow, is eligible for a lump sum of six times the amount, approximately $185. Also at the time they reach 65 they may be eligible for monthly benefits unless they have remarried.

Veterans Service Center pointed out that the benefits of this act extend up until four years after the end of the war and that the war has not been terminated yet. Dependents can apply for these benefits at any Social Security office, or the Torrance Veterans Service center, 2300 Carson st.

AMVETS GET PERMIT TO INSTALL TROPHY TRAILER IN CITY

American Veterans of World War II, known as the Amvets, have been granted permission to install an exhibit of war trophies in a trailer in Torrance.

The Amvets said that the exhibit is being taken from city to city in an effort to build membership in the organization.

Letters to Editor

September 17, 1946

Editor Torrance Herald: May we take this means to thank you for the generous space your newspaper is according press copy sent to you by the Veterans Administration.

We appreciate your assistance in helping us to fulfill our responsibility of keeping World War II veterans in this area informed of their rights and benefits under the Servicemen's Readjustment Act (G.I. Bill) and Vocational Rehabilitation (Public Law 16).

Very truly yours,
DUKE H. BENNETT
Chief Public Relations
Los Angeles Region Office
Veterans Administration

September 16, 1946

Editor Torrance Herald: Never, in my few years' experience in matters governmental and political, has anyone owed so great a debt of gratitude to the press of California and in acknowledging it, I want to tell you of my earnest thanks for your interest in the campaign for State Controller and for the information concerning it, which you presented to your readers.

My only desire now is to conduct myself in such a manner during my tenure as to merit the faith you placed in me.

Very sincerely yours,
THOMAS H. KUCHEL
Controller State of California

Sept. 15, 1946

Editor Torrance Herald: Believing a newspaper's aim should be the welfare of its readers, I want to call to your attention to the smoke and fumes from the G. P. Torrance refinery. These are endangering the health of many people and no effort is made by the refinery to control them. We do not recognize anyone's rights to maintain a nuisance and we hope the Herald can lend a hand toward controlling these fumes before everyone is compelled to vacate for health's sake.

Respectfully,
E. O. REGAN
1457 W. 185th st.

Editor Torrance Herald: The public information department of the Welfare Federation has brought to my attention the splendid special section which your paper recently devoted to Community Chest agencies and their services.

I should like to take this opportunity to convey to you my personal appreciation, and that of the board of directors, for your fine cooperation and interest. The section of your paper will do much to further general public understanding of health and welfare services.

Cordially,
G. P. Winnett, president
Los Angeles Community and Welfare Federation.

Officials To Meet Wyatt On Needs For Homes Here

sewer problems are being worked out for thousands of acres of potential home-building land, it is felt that nothing should stand in the way of home construction.

Wyatt will be in California to attend the American Legion convention at San Francisco in an effort to get that organization's support of the housing project bill. The V.F.W. already has recommended the plan, Bailey and other builders will be at the convention to see why they don't feel the program is sound.

In reference to the protest of the City of Torrance against the rejection by the F.H.A. of the two Torrance tracts, Raymond M. Foley, commissioner of the Federal Housing Administration, Washington, D. C., has replied to Blaine Walker, secretary of the Chamber of Commerce, that "in order to be as helpful as possible in your housing situation, an unwritten supervisor has been sent from this office to our Los Angeles office to review the application and proposals for housing accommodations submitted from the Torrance area."

Replies also were received from offices of Senator William F. Knowland and Representative Cecil R. King promising immediate attention to the housing problems here.
